

By Phat

This week I am starting a new department. (There I go again, that capital "I" three times in the first three lines.) Anyway, this department is going to be known as the "Scarlet Physiognomy Section." If that big word throws you, think of Red Face. I wasted five minutes looking it up because I was tracing down the "Phis" page instead of "Phys."

WHAT GOES ON—The entire matter came up this week as the result of two errors last week. One of omission—the other of commission. In the latter case, seems that in last week's article about the marriage of Alice Caine Parry and J. L. McAtee, the word "art" was mysteriously transformed into "barber." So, instead of opening an art shop in Banning this summer, the aforesaid John McAtee was hailed in public print as about to open a barber shop. Not so. It's an art shop. Worst thing about it is that I looked up the copy, seeking an alibi, and was much embarrassed to find I had written in "barber." So can't blame the linotype man. Only reason I can assign for making the error was that in my subconscious mind I was debating whether to take time out to shave.

MORE OF THE SAME—The error of omission concerns a Villager who has really done a lot for Palm Springs in cultural lines—Holly Lash Visel. In the story of the Easter Dawn service she was mentioned as being a member of the Palm Springs Trio. That is a gross understatement. Holly Lash Visel is not only a member of that trio, she formed it and directs it. Not only that. She arranged and directed all of the music for that splendid service, heard by thousands via radio. It was a great task, remarkably well done. (Does that square us, Mrs. Visel?) And, I'm happy to say, I didn't write the original yarn.

THE VILLAGE—When Muriel Fulton was presented the gavel at this week's realty board meeting, Charley Mathews made the presentation speech. He addressed her as "Madame President—and I don't mean Eleanor." . . . Ernie Alscher, who put out those glass globes for collection of money for the Community Hospital, says the proportion of sexes in the Village is away out of line. The jars feature a cut-out of a female deer with the slogan: "A Little Doe for the Hospital." . . . He found a check in the one at the Racquet club signed by Velma Silverman of Chicago, for $50. "Fifty bucks for one doe," he commented . . . Bad, that is.

THIS AND THAT—Official census figures received this week by City Manager Bill Alworth reveal some interesting items. The tabulation shows that among white residents, there are 355 more women than men. The colored population is almost evenly balanced—six more women than men. . . . With the fishing season starting Wednesday, would like to call attention to section 67a of the California Vehicle code. This provides that an auto horn may only be used to give an audible warning signal and at no other time. The foregoing is respectfully referred to those (adjective deleted by censor) guys who call for their friends at 4 a.m. to go fishing and sit outside and shove the palm of their hand against the horn button.

MUSIC—Looks like Ted Reed is going to get a lot of plugs here this week. (a) For months I have been building up a record library of all of the good old tunes and was getting on very well except for one number: "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey," which made such a hit back in the 20s. Just couldn't find it. Wednesday night, Harry Bernhard of Reed's Radio collaborated with Eddie Dowell of the Rainbow Room and Bill Murtaugh of KCMJ, to cut me a record of it. And it starts out "And now for Phat of the Desert Sun, Eddie Dowell, etc." (b) Two new Guy Lombardo releases came out this week and Mory had 'em on the counter early the day they got here. (c) Reed and I both stumbled last week. We were looking for "Personality," in the No. 2 spot the week before, to go to No. 1. Instead, it nose-dived to No. 7 . . . Remember Mairrie Dotes? Three Little Fishes? Looks like the era of goofy songs is coming back. Heard three of them last week several times. Can't even pronounce the titles. . . . And, maybe I'm wrong, but I think that "Seems Like Old Times" will get on the Hit Parade soon.

ODDS AND ENDS—Perhaps you don't know it, but you're $38.24 cents less in the hole than you were March 1. Washington says your share of the national debt is now only $195.23. On March 1 it was $199.52, the all-time high . . . The $64 question in Palm Springs right now: "Where can I find house to live in?" Did I say $64? . . . I still can't understand why some drivers will risk the lives of their families to crash boulevard stop signs or zoom out from driveways or curbs without looking—and then crawl along the center line at 15 miles per. If they have that much time, why don't they wait for main highway traffic to pass?

City to Proceed on Torney Proposal

2 Proposals For Tramway Submitted

Third One Expected
As Authority Gets Estimates on Project

San Jacinto Winter Park Authority at its meeting Saturday heard two proposals for the construction of the aerial tramway up Chino canyon to the winter playgrounds high over the desert

The American Steel and Wire company, through its representative, Gordon Bannerman, submitted one, and Edward R. Bacon, representing the Interstate Equipment company, the other.

"We had the first tangible evidence presented by major construction companies on what the Tramway will look like," declared Earl Coffman, president of the San Jacinto Winter Park Authority.

It was not known whether the American Steel and Wire company, in addition to blue prints submitted, indicated what the Tramway would cost. However, it is understood that it will cost between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

Among the other companies from whom bids and proposals are expected is one from the John Roebling & Company, pioneer constructors of suspension bridges and manufacturers of steel cables.

ISSUES STATEMENT

Edward R. Bacon, Palm Springs home-owner and winter resident, submitted a revised proposal for the company he represents. Following his meeting with the Tramway authority Bacon issued the following statement:

"The Mount San Jacinto Tramway project," said Mr. Bacon, "is much more comprehensive than the mere construction of some sort of a tramway, and it is necessary that much preliminary work shall be done in the development and engineering of the entire project.

The engineering group that I represent includes Mr. Gilbert M. Kilcarr, foremost tramway engineer in the United States, and Dr. D. B. Steinman, world-famous suspension bridge engineer, and is competent and best qualified to develop and engineer the entire tramway project starting from the main road leading north from Palm Springs, including transportation facilities from the road to the upper terminal developments, and the facilities from the upper terminal to the higher snowfields.

AT LOWEST COST

"Our engineering services include the designing and preparation of plans, working drawings and specifications for the entire tramway project so that the Authority will be in position to contract for all divisions of the project on a competitive bid basis, thereby insuring the construction of a tramway project that will be an outstanding engineering achievement at the lowest possible cost.

"The design of the Tramway itself will be such as to provide an easy, comfortable and safe passage for 500 passengers per hour without standing and without transfer stations."

No Hot Rods Here Says Police Chief as Trio Nabbed in Racing Car

There'll be no "Hot Rods" in Palm Springs. Chief of Police August G. Kettman acted immediately this week to protect motorists and pedestrians from "hopped-up jalopies" after two Los Angeles youths drove to town in their stripped cars, rebuilt for racing, and engaged a local youth in a speed contest.

All three were picked up and taken to the police station where a lecture on safe driving was delivered.

Los Angeles police have been fighting the "hot rod" problem for some time and because they have been successful in curbing the activities of youths who want speed, the latter are spreading out.

A "hot rod" is an ordinary car rebuilt with special carburetion to give it excess power and speed.

Problem of Housing Is Again Acute

School Chief Says
Something Must Be Done in Situation

The critical housing situation in Palm Springs was brought to the fore again this week when Miss Katherine Finch, superintendent of the Desert School district, said that unless housing at reasonable prices was found for school teachers, the schools might be severely handicapped during the coming term.

She said that several valued members of the staff were with holding signatures on their contracts for next year until they could be assured of adequate housing.

"School teachers are like everyone else. They are normal people and want normal living conditions where they can have the normal social life. You can't put them in barracks," the superintendent said. It is up to all Villagers to aid in the search if they want their youngsters to have the best in education."

William E. Alworth, city manager, also presented the same problem. The city will lose some of its valued personnel unless adequate housing at a reasonable figure is found.

Businessmen, too, expressed concern over the situation this fall as to housing for their employees. With the close of government housing projects this summer, the situation will be more acute this fall for teachers, city employees and others who staff the establishments which serve the city's biggest industry—the tourists, it pointed out.

Planning Chief Assumes Duties

Harry E. Bergh, newly appointed director of city planning, arrived in the Village Wednesday to assume his duties. Accompanied by his wife he made the trip from Seattle, Wash., by auto. Mrs. Bergh will remain in Los Angeles until he finds living quarters there.

He will work with the Planning Commission, recommending and advising on city planning and ordinances.

He and William E. Alworth, city manager, have joined forces in seeking homes for their families.

Mayor Buys New Home In Costa Mesa Area

Mayor and Mrs. Clarence A. Hyde have purchased a new summer home at Costa Mesa, they revealed this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hopp and son, Jimmy, their son-in-law, daughter and grandson, have gone to the beach area for the summer and the mayor and his wife plan to spend their weeks there.

Congressman Praises Village Food Drive

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives

Washington, D. C.

April 28, 1946

Desert Sun
Palm Springs, Cal.

Gentlemen:

Congress is solidly and wholeheartedly behind the President of the United States in the present effort to get food to the starving people of Europe. There is no question of the necessity. It is not necessary now to give statistics or descriptions. Statistics will not save lives. Quick action is imperative. We should talk now of the details of getting food together and getting it to Europe.

The Desert Sun of Palm Springs has the best idea I have heard yet. It involves action, and personal interest and sacrifice and real food in quantity.

Everybody should be in it whether you want to help because you want to save a life, or whether you realize that food today is a factor in world peace and security. One of the great nations is today asking food from its own people, who need it, to send to France, because it will influence the elections there. We do not want to influence elections; America, the great and trusted of free nations, wants to free thinking peoples, from hunger so that they may approach their own elections, without external and often undesirable influences.

I speak from personal knowledge. I have seen the people we will feed. I have seen them in time of peace and in time of war.

As a member of the House of Representatives Committee on Agriculture, and one of the managers of the Special Marketing Committee, and a member of the Congressional Food Study Committee, I hear these problems talked of every day.

I think the Palm Springs Desert Sun is doing a fine job to put this idea over. I will do everything I can to support the plan and to help.

I urge every one to support the Desert Sun's humane endeavor. I am,

Sincerely yours,

John Phillips, M.C.

Body of Cross Found in Lake In Mountains

Search of William J. Cross, former Palm Springs real estate broker, missing since April 10 from his room near Lake Arrowhead, ended Monday when his body was found floating beneath a boat landing on the north shore of Lake Arrowhead.

Cross was last seen on April 10, at his home in Cedar Glen, in the San Bernardino mountain district. When he failed to appear a search was made of his quarters by police. His money and all personal possessions were found there and his automobile was parked outside but no trace of the former Villager could be found.

Then on Monday, the body was found in Lake Arrowhead, beneath the pier. An investigation was made by the San Bernardino county coroner but no evidence of foul play was uncovered.

The study is, however, being continued.

Cross, when in Palm Springs several years ago, had desk space in the real estate office of WALTER Z. ALLEN, local realtor and stock broker.

Realtors Have First Woman President

For the first time in the history of the Palm Springs Realty Board a woman member will be the president of its president.

Muriel E. Fulton, engaged in the real estate business for 13 years in Palm Springs, and a member of the Realty Board, was unanimously elected to the office of president of that organization Tuesday morning.

John Chaffey was elected vice-president and William Vieth, secretary-treasurer. Miss Fulton succeeds JACK WILLIAMS, retiring president and Vieth stepped into the shoes of Charley Mathews.

RAYMOND CREE, pioneer realtor here said in the 35 years he has spent here selling real estate, long before there was a Realty Board, this is the first time a woman has presided as president.

Names of the three youths picked up this week were withheld on their promise to keep a light foot on the throttle.

He continued by saying that

Village First to Start Concrete Drive to Aid War-Ravaged Peoples

Started last week by The Desert Sun and followed two days later by a national proposal, a campaign to collect food for famine stricken victims of war-ravaged Europe met with instantaneous response by citizens of Palm Springs this week.

The campaign launched last Friday morning here, ran "smack-bang" into a similar drive now in the process of formation only as details, to be launched nationally from Washington, D. C. on May 12.

COMMAND DRIVE

Consequently long distance telephone calls were placed from the office of the Desert Sun to United Nations Rehabilitation and Relief Association in Washington, to former Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia, head of UNRRA in New York City, John B. Elliott who is expected to be the chairman for the overseas food drive in Southern California and from all of these offices, people in authority, including John Phillips, congressman from this district, the drive launched by the Desert Sun, was highly commended.

Then on Monday, the body was found in Lake Arrowhead, beneath the pier. An investigation was made by the San Bernardino county coroner but no evidence of foul play was uncovered.

The study is, however, being continued.

Another First

John Phillips came into the picture here last Saturday. He had arrived to act as the main speaker at a luncheon tendered in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce. Acquainted with the drive for canned food here for victims of famine stricken Europe, the representative who is a member of the Congressional Food Study committee, highly praised the Sun's campaign.

He said:

"The Desert Sun of Palm Springs has the best idea I have heard yet. It involves action and personal interest and real food in quantities. Everybody should be in it whether you want to help because you want to save a life or whether you realize that food today is a factor in world peace and security."

Close-Up Picture of Washington Given Villagers By Congressman

John Phillips Tells Local Group of the Situation at Capital

Declaring that the District of Columbia is a "district of confusion", that congress is under the greatest pressure in its history from constituents at home and that the forthcoming congressional elections are the most important in the history of the United States, John Phillips, congressman representing the 22nd district which includes Palm Springs pulled no punches in his off the shoulder speech last Saturday before members of the Chamber of Commerce and other prominent citizens.

Also, during the course of his address at a luncheon at the Desert Inn, tendered in his honor by the local chamber, he warned that the city and other groups interested in the Torney General Hospital property should conciliate their views on the use of that property or all would lose.

Phillips declared that the various bureaus of the government in Washington, instead of being abolished with the end of the war, are still at war-time strength, or have broadened in their scope of work, until one department overlaps deeply into the activities of the other.

It was at this point, he remarked, that if any confusion existed during the war it is even worse now.

"The District of Columbia," said Phillips, "is nothing but a district of confusion."

Added to all of the picture of confusion he painted, Phillips continued by saying that members of congress are figuratively buried under an avalanche of letters from constituents who demand not only an immediate answer, but what the representative is doing about bills that have not even been acted upon by committees, who in turn have not completed their study of the subject.

SCORES RADIO

To emphasize the burden under which congressmen are laboring in answering their voters back home, Phillips alluded to the promiscuous use of radio networks by New Deal pedagogues. He said that following the end of the war in Japan, his office and those of other congressmen in Washington was overwhelmed by these letters which followed closely the tirades leveled at Washington by radio speakers with personal or party axes to grind.

TELLS OF INVASION

Carrying this thought further, Phillips painted a picture of the huge masses of men, ships and machinery which were used in the invasion of the Normandy coast of France he visited about 100 days after the attack was launched.

"Without having seen it with my own eyes, I could never have imagined the gigantic might which was hurled against the Germans on the French coast," Phillips said. "Today if the same attack were launched, it would have been wiped out with one little atomic bomb," he added.

"All in all," Phillips continued, "I would again like to see groups of politically minded men get together to discuss questions of national importance. It would certainly be fine if these citizens like those who used to gather around fat-bellied stoves years ago, would meet and gain from each other the proper attitude and the changes the atomic age will certainly bring and are now being felt.

It's possible now," he declared, "for a politician to make personal contact with large groups of people in areas separated by hundreds of miles during the course of a day."

Then, he added, it is possible for any one to expound orally on a pet political subject via the ether waves with a listening audience ranging from several thousands to millions.

"The atomic age," continued Phillips, "is even now changing our way of thinking internationally. No longer will huge masses of men be concentrated in a single area to be hurled against the enemy. Defense of our country is in the process of being changed now."

NATION TOO TIRED

Carrying this thought further, Phillips painted a picture of the huge masses of men, ships and machinery which were used in the invasion of the Normandy coast of France he visited about 100 days after the attack was launched.

"Without having seen it with my own eyes, I could never have imagined the gigantic might which was hurled against the Germans on the French coast," Phillips said. "Today if the same attack were launched, it would have been wiped out with one little atomic bomb," he added.

"All in all," Phillips continued, "I would again like to see groups of politically minded men get together to discuss questions of national importance. It would certainly be fine if these citizens like those who used to gather around fat-bellied stoves years ago, would meet and gain from each other the proper attitude toward political questions of the day."

NATION TOO TIRED

He said that the country as a whole is not interested in national problems at first hand. Every one is just too tired from their activities during the world war. The soldier, returned from the war, the congressman said, wants to rest. The war worker who labored long hours and then went out at night on national patriotic war campaigns is also tired and wants to take a vacation. Most of the people are getting their politics, Phillips implied, in a synthetic manner.

It was his opinion that the country is faced with the most important elections in the history of this country, the oldest democracy in the world. He compared the forthcoming election with the early formation of this country, naming the Revolutionary war period as the time when this country was first formed and the Civil war which preserved the Union of the states.

LOUDLY APPLAUSED

Although, in the strictest sense of the word, the luncheon tendered the congressional representative had no political tint on its surface, Republican John Phillips was loudly applauded when the under current of his speech urged that careful scrutiny be made of the type of men who are up for election to congress, and other state and national offices.

Invited by the chamber of commerce to report on legislative measures in congress and what the future portends with regards to the Indian Reservation, the Torney General hospital property and that of the Army Air base, Congressman Phillips answered these questions, with both warnings and suggestions.

WILL BE O.K.

Relative to the Indian question here, he said that a new Commissioner of Indian Affairs would soon be appointed and he would be much to the liking of Palm Springs. He had no further information than to say he believed the Indian Reservation problem would be worked out to the satisfaction of everybody.

However, he did warn those present with reference to the acquisition of the Torney General hospital property. He counseled that both the city of Palm

Bill Hillary Comments on Cathedral City

By W. R. HILLERY

When you are running for a non-paying job or one that pays, you should carry nothing but bouquets and leave the brickbats at home. I would like to see every voter go to the Frances Stevens school on the 17th of this month and vote. That is more important than shouting for any particular candidate.

At the Emasculated Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night at Town Hall, the question of forming a fire district was reported as progressing. There can be little latitude in the manner of forming our district as Cherry Valley, Desert Hot Springs and Idyllwild are in the process now in which the county gives some assistance and the balance of the equipment is spread over a budget of as many years as the taxpayers decide.

Forestry men can advise and equipment men are always glad to help figure — probably the ground work can be surveyed before formally presenting our petition. In this connection we could add that Mr. Redwine will not approve the petition if it is held too long.

With each new structure erected in our community the fire hazard grows.

At the chamber meeting, a petition to the supervisors to accept all streets and maintain them cannot do harm but the suggestion that we hire an attorney to look after our interests is excellent, that is, if the citizen is not interested enough to spend time and money in getting information first hand at Riverside. An attorney or a citizen who is not one but has a qualifying sense of proportion could report on whether Mr. Redwine was sarcastic about any group of taxpayers having to hire someone to see that their reasonable requests are granted. Maybe the flood hazard is a factor now, maybe it is economy to bring in crews and equipment at intervals and catch up the accumulated tax credits rather than do more than the local maintenance man can do each year.

PHONE 3393Chamber of Commerce Directors Back Plan for "Right to Work" Amendment

Indorsement of a plan to seek a place on the November ballot for the "right to work" amendment that would correct certain abuses of labor relations, was voted Wednesday by the board of directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Assistance of the Chamber office in distributing petitions for collection of signatures was authorized by the directors following a presentation of the plans by Charles A. McKean of Los Angeles, who heads the new ballot campaign.

He revealed that two veterans' organizations of California will spearhead the campaign for adoption of the measure in November. Belief that men and women who fought in the war will be overwhelmingly in favor of the ballot proposition was voiced by Mr. McKean.

In a second action the directors of commercial building in Palm Springs to determine if injustices have been caused by the OPA orders. The chamber of commerce manager was authorized to consult with the Federal officials on the building stoppages here.

The group met at the Fiesta House. It was voted to waive the next meeting of the board scheduled for next Monday night since it calls the night before the annual meeting of the Chamber.

Convention at Riverside Today

Dr. James E. Potter of Palm Springs attended the three-day convention of the American Urological association Wednesday to today, at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

Jay Crane of Los Angeles is president; Dudley P. Fagerstrom of San Jose, president-elect; Frederick A. Bush, Yakima, Washington, immediate past president, and A. A. Kutzmann, Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer.

A prize of $100 today will be presented for the best scientific essay presented. The discussion topics will be highly technical.

With Dr. Walter Pritchard of San Bernardino in charge of registration, the convention attracted 150, including wives of the members.

The annual tournament was held yesterday at Arrowhead club, San Bernardino, beginning at 1:30 p.m. A golf dinner for men followed at Seven Oaks club. Women met for bridge and dinner at the Pritchard residence.

The event will conclude tonight with a dinner dance with Jose Arias and his orchestra playing.

IN THE FILMS—Earnie Andrade of the B Bar H, who took part in "Duel in the Sun", a new David O. Selznick technicolor production.

Local Rancher in Selznick's Latest
Technicolor Film

Ernie Andrade, of the B. Bar H ranch and well known here, recently completed a character role in David O. Selznick's $5,000,000 Technicolor production, "Duel in the Sun", in which he appears with such outstanding stars as Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten, Gregory Peck, Lionel Barrymore, Tilly Losch, Lillian Gish, Herbert Marshall, Walter Huston, Charles Bickford and others.

Although Andrade has appeared in over a dozen pictures, "Duel in the Sun" marks his debut in a Selznick production.

Andrade, who was raised on his father's ranch in eastern Oregon, is an expert horseman, and claims that his skills had never been put to more exacting test than while portraying a hard-riding cowboy in Selznick's star-studded production.

Andrade, whose movie career started with an opportunity to ride camera-shy horses, hopes some day to own a cow ranch and be a top-flight calf roper.

Andrade, who has no real theatrical or screen ambitions, is much more at home on a horse than before a camera. He plans, however, to attend the world premiere of "Duel in the Sun" whenever it will be held. "If I have to travel on horseback," Andrade declared, "that's the way I'll go."

Police Have Busy Month, Report of Chief Indicates

Three felony arrests and 105 misdemeanor arrests were made by the local police force in April, according to report on file with City Manager William E. Alworth from the desk of Police Chief August E. Kettmann.

Intoxication cases topped the list with 22 facing Judge E. E. Therieu on that charge. Sixty traffic citations were issued.

Chief Kettmann's report revealed that stolen property recovered by police amounted to $1,951 in April.

EIGHT ACCIDENTS

There were eight traffic mishaps here in the month with two persons injured.

The department investigated 304 complaints during the month, 16 of which were felony complaints.

Keeping a close tab on the large influx of workers and visitors to the Village to protect the city, Chief Kettmann revealed that 14 persons were asked to leave town—and did.

Chief Kettmann also revealed that of the 16 felonies reported, three were cleared by arrests and six by restitution of stolen property through police efforts.

LOTS OF BUSINESS

During the month the department handled 2788 inquiries, almost 100 per day.

An interesting item in the report showed that while only two bicycles were reported stolen during the month, police recovered three lost bikes.

The report was placed on file by council after presentation by City Manager Alworth, Wednesday.

John Phillips Comes Home

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

As a rule, political routine isn't versatile. When a Congressman returns to his home port—after a hectic and prolonged session in Washington—he is entertained by Republicans, if he is a Republican, and by Democrats if he is a Democrat.

A marked exception to this routine is found in California's 22nd Congressional district composed of Riverside, Orange and Imperial counties, and represented since 1942 by John Phillips of Banning. When he comes home for a visit with his constituents, partisanship is forgotten and everybody turns out to extend a warm welcome to this staunch American whose record as a top-ranking legislator is widely acclaimed.

Last week, Congressman Phillips was the honored guest at a luncheon given by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce at the Desert Inn. His address was straightforward and candid. At no time did he cut corners in an effort to soften the message he had for the citizens of this community.

"America is facing, today, the greatest crisis in her history," Mr. Phillips said. "If the people of this country expect to keep our form of government intact, they must act now. They should hold meetings in their separate communities and discuss courageously every reason why we are los-make room for hot records," was one card this week. Alice Caine Parry McAtee, in calling my attention to a mistake last week (see above) wrote that I should consider her second name. "That's what I'm going to raise with you." "Why can't the city buy those army barracks and convert them into moderate-priced housing?" comes another.

"I'm told that even if you employ an extra person for one day, you're stuck $25 under the city license measure. Is that right? Will have to consult the city hall before answering."

IN CLOSING—Happy Cinco de Mayo to you.

crowd is expected this week-end. During the early part of the summer days Juan will move from the closed Circus Room to the main cocktail lounge where he will continue to sing and play the piano.

The Rolly Room showed every chair and stool occupied for a time at least on Thursday night while at the Rainbow Room Eddie Dowell still operated at the Hammond organ.

Ex-Captain Granville Webb and wife Esther were seen at Mr. Dees. Just out of the army with the local army air base, he is returning to work with the Pan-American Airways. He will leave some time around the middle of this month for Hawaii and thinks he will ultimately end up out China way.

Everybody knows that the Pago Pago will be substantially expanded for business when the season opens. Dancing on a grand scale is the plan and with more room for diners. Victor Cavallera it is hoped, will return to this "spot" next year.

David Lyons, manager of Mr. Dees, claims that there will be some changes at his place, too, come next winter. He, too, plans to have room for dancing and a better stage for his entertainers.

Looks like the Lido, the main bar at the Chi Chi and the Dunes, will be about the only places open during the summer months. Steve, formerly of the Latin Quarters, will be in charge of the Lido during the torrid months. While he manages this "spot", Danny Danzinger, his wife and son Donnie, will be back in the middle west where the heat may not run the thermometer up as high as it may be here but, oh! how wet the heat will be there. At the Lido this Friday for a short engagement will be Jeanne Keller, who started at Mr. Dees about six weeks ago. She is always good for a belly laugh with the type of entertainment she dispenses.

Starting with the cocktail hour until late Thursday night every "spot" in town seemed comfortably crowded. Mairi d' Virginia at the Chi Chi announced that business is very good and a large magazine appeared in Scribner's Monthly in 1870.

Springs, and although he did not name the organization, the Palm Springs Community Hospital, get together in a unified plan in trying to acquire the Torney General hospital property.

"If you do not," Phillips warned, "neither the city nor anyone else will get the Torney General hospital property for the City of Palm Springs."

FAMILY WITH HIM

Following the luncheon, Edward Bacon, director of the Community Hospital and William E. Alworth were seen to enter a private room with Representative Phillips.

Present with the speaker was his wife and two sons, Carl and Robert, recently returned home from military service with the Army Air Forces.

Prior to Phillips' warning on the hospital situation here and his report on the Indian problem, he warmly praised Harry Harper, secretary of the chamber of commerce here for the fine work he accomplished on his trip to Washington, D.C., early this season.

"When you have a 'leg-man' to do the running around, a great deal can be accomplished," declared Phillips. "I found Harper invaluable in helping to solve some of your problems."

Phillips continued by saying that local problems involving sanction by some Washington bureaus needs the attention of a person who can devote his time in visiting the myriad of offices and to solicit the understanding of countless persons who may have a bearing on the successful completion of a mission. He cited the work of one person in Washington, whose services were secured by Edward R. Bacon in obtaining the use of Ward "B" as the temporary quarters of Torney General hospital.

AT HEAD TABLE

Among the 75 guests who were present at the luncheon was Fred Howser, district attorney for Los Angeles County who is running for election as attorney general for the state; George D. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams, he is chairman of the Riverside Republican Central Committee, and Clark Wilson. These people sat at the speaker's table together with Dr. Henry S. Reed and his son Harry, Judge Eugene Therneau, Art Bailey, Earl Coffman, Barney Hinkle, Robert Ransom, soon to retire as president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the speaker.

Suspect in Local Hotel Burglaries Arrested at Beach

Solution of a series of burglaries at a local hotel was believed near today by Chief of Police August G. Kettmann after the arrest of a man giving his name as Konstant Walter Timyniski, 34, in Santa Monica by police of that city, this week.

The suspect is accused of burglaries in five southland cities including Palm Springs. Sgt. Stanley Ehrlert went to the beach city and investigated when word of the arrest was received here.

In his report to Chief Kettmann he said that Timyniski's room was stacked high with a variety of articles. Guests at the local hotel, who lost articles in the burglaries, have been notified

City Urged to Act Against Violators Of Zoning Laws by Home Owners League

The Palm Springs city government this week was urged by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce to begin prosecutions of flagrant violations of zoning laws restricting commercial installations in residential areas.

W. E. Alworth, city manager, had met with the directors in a special meeting called at the request of the Home-Owners League of Palm Springs, and discussed the problem with the chamber officials.

SURVEY UNDER WAY

The directors and Home-Owners League went thoroughly into the problem which renting of rooms in residential districts has raised in Palm Springs, and further action is to be considered later on this point.

Several glaring violations of the zoning laws in the establishing of hotels and apartment houses in residential districts have come to the attention of the city and the Home-Owners League and these were pointed out as dangerous precedents.

ISSUES WARNING

Frank Culver, president of the Home-Owners League, and several of the executive board of the League presented the zoning question to the Chamber directors, warning that unless the violations are curbed the "integrity of our world-famed residential areas will be doomed." There was unanimous approval among the directors on the danger of this practice, there being only a difference of opinion as to how to attack the problem.

The Home-Owners group plans an educational campaign to acquaint the people of Palm Springs with the restrictions of the zoning laws and the importance of rigid enforcement.

185 Planes Bring 400 to Local Airport

The biggest post-war armada of civilian-operated airplanes converged on Palm Springs last Sunday for the first resumption of annual breakfast flights by members of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce. The last such flight took place in 1940.

More than 400 flying enthusiasts, transported in 185 planes, made the trip here from Los Angeles. Upon landing, pilots and passengers registered and were served a breakfast of bacon, eggs, hot cakes and coffee at the Army Mess hall, located at the Army Air Base.

MANY NEW PLANES

It was reported that a low ceiling with a 4,000 foot over-east kept many of those who had registered in Los Angeles for the flight on the ground. However, despite this bad weather on the coast, the planes that did make the flight to land at Palm Springs showed the largest display of aircraft ever assembled at one spot. The latest versions of Cubs, Navions, Aerocas, Cadets, Cessnas, Stinsons and Sky Rangers were some of the planes viewed by many spectators. There were more 1946 model planes on the field than the number shown at a display of aircraft at a recent New York show, it was said.

The flight was arranged through the cooperation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles and Harry Harper, secretary of the Palm Springs Chamber. Harper was assisted at this end by Ed Reed, chairman of the Palm Springs' Chamber of Commerce, Aviation committee.

LOCAL CAP AIDS

Parking of the privately owned planes when they landed was under the direction of Warrant Officer Richard Oliver of the Civil Air Patrol. He had 20 of that organization's cadets assisting him.

Among the planes that were displayed here there was included three manufactured around Los Angeles. The Nelson Dragonfly, a Bowles sailplane, powered by a 50 h.p. magnesium engine, received considerable attention.

The object of the flight from Los Angeles to Palm Springs was intended to demonstrate the possibilities of private planes for recreation and week-end outings.

The flight to and from Palm Springs was without the slightest accident. Reports from Los Angeles said that the return flight was unusually bumpy through the pass but all planes landed safely.

Asserted Knife Wielder Arrested

Ralph Chacon, laborer, was in custody at city jail today awaiting investigation of his status in this country, by immigration officials.

He was arrested on complaint of Tom Kiley, in charge of gardeners for a local hotel, after he had flashed a knife on Kiley.

Because Chacon had assertedly been in difficulty with immigration officers before, his case was referred to them by local police on advice of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Letters of instruction from headquarters of the Ferrying Division, of which the local army air base is a unit, relative to the disposition of the field and its personnel, expected for sometime, have not as yet arrived.

Public relations officer, James Myl, of the 6th Ferrying Group in Long Beach, in the Village about 10 days ago, said that a story he had written for public release was in the process of "clearing" headquarters. He refused to divulge in advance any of the "story's" content. However, he intimated that the closing of the field completely by the army was only matter of little time.

Personnel attached to the engineering department at the field will probably remain at work there for sometime and until the property is declared surplus, sold or disposed of in other ways.

UNDER WAY—Cliff McCullagh and Harry R. Reed, Villagers, stand beside one of the trucks with which they started a caravan by auto to Alaska Wednesday. (Gayle Studio photo.)

Dream Trip Started by Two Villagers Who Take Off for Alaska Via Automobile

An adventure most of us read about and yearn for is going to become a reality for two Villagers this summer.

Headed north to Alaska and the Arctic circle via automobile and house trailers are Harry R. Reed, photographer, and Cliff McCullagh, owner of a bicycle shop here for 11 years. Both men are taking

The purpose of the expedition, which took off Wednesday, is to compile an educational colored motion picture travelogue. Pictures for magazines and other publications will also be taken.

Following the return of the expedition, Reed plans to tour the United States lecturing and showing his pictures. Cliff McCullagh is well acquainted with the northern country. He surveyed large tracts of land for the United States government there years ago.

Each of the two men are driving one and a half ton Army panel trucks of heavy duty construction and behind each vehicle a trailer is attached in which the families of the two men will live while on the trip.

Reed said they expect to follow the Alcan highway and have equipment with them to build a road, if necessary, to get through. Their first destination will be Fairbanks, Alaska, after which they will head toward the Arctic circle. They expect to be gone from three to six months.

Army Air Base in Process of Closing, Indication Today

Although no official word has been received in the city relative to the scheduled closing of the local Army air base and the transfer of its military personnel and dismissal of civilian employees, it is reliably reported that such action is now in process.

Reliable authority stated that the control and weather station would be abandoned in the very near future while on the other hand, it is said, the army may retain the base for several weeks as a refueling station for aircraft.

Letters of instruction from headquarters of the Ferrying Division, of which the local army air base is a unit, relative to the disposition of the field and its personnel, expected for sometime, have not as yet arrived.

Public relations officer, James Myl, of the 6th Ferrying Group in Long Beach, in the Village about 10 days ago, said that a story he had written for public release was in the process of "clearing" headquarters. Veterans Housing Problem to Come Up for Discussion

Members of the newly organized Disabled American Veterans Chapter 66, of Palm Springs, will meet at the Fire Hall, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 8.

One of the subjects which will come up for study and discussion is the veterans' housing situation as it exists in Palm Springs.

Commander Dr. James E. Potter is expected to announce his plan for the location of a veterans' hospital in this area, preferably Palm Springs. It was announced that this suggestion went forward this past week to the Veterans' Administration in Washington.

It is known that Dr. Potter has had many of his professional hours occupied in helping ex-service obtain hospitalization at the Sawtelle Veterans' hospital, and has aided many of them in establishing war-service connected disabilities. To date his office reported more than 35 local veterans have been sent by him to Sawtelle and in each case the findings of the doctor have been upheld by government physicians.

At present the campaign to recruit additional members for the local chapter of the DAVs continues. It is known that there are many ex-service men here in the village who are qualified to join.

Other business to take place at the meeting on Wednesday night will be the selection of delegates to represent the local chapter at the state convention.

Popular Members Of Local Mexican Colony Are Wed

Two popular members of the Mexican colony were joined in marriage last Sunday during the high mass at Our Lady of Solitude Catholic church.

The bride was the former Miss Sidronia Marmolejo and the bridegroom Manuel R. Villagrasa, recently returned from the South Pacific where he saw service with the army.

Friends of the couple from as far away as Pasadena and Indio were present at the wedding ceremony at the church together with most of the members of the local Mexican colony. A huge reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the church marriage. Monsignor Frederick Wekenman officiated.

The bride was beautifully attired in a plain satin gown with a long train. She wore a fingertip veil with lace insets, held in place by a crown of orange blossoms. In her march down the aisle she carried a prayer book with long streamers of white ribbons. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Romero.

The maid of honor was the bride's own sister, Rafaela M. Marmolejo. She wore a light blue all-over sequin lace gown and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of stock and a rosary to match her gown.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rutilio Villegas of Banning. He recalled that he and his new bride had known each other when they were children 20 years ago in Banning.

His best man was Juan Inez Maza of Pasadena, who was formerly stationed at the local Army air base here.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Tutilio Villegas, Mrs. Sabino Jurado, Miss Felicitas Mediano and Mrs. Emily H. Romero.

Ushers were Rutilio Villegas, Eutemio Villegas, Sabino Jurado and Mrs. Milton Mediano.

Following the wedding ceremony, an all-day reception was held at the home of the bride. Dinner was served from 1:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. with more than 200 guests in attendance. This reception was followed with a dance at the Field Club.

Maids of honor were Miss Sally Arreola of Banning, Miss Hortencia Ortega and Miss Candelaria Reyes. The flower girl was Maria Inez Marmolejo and the ring bearer Larry Arreola of Banning.

There were several winter residents present at the home reception in addition to friends of the couple, some of whom traveled great distances to be present at the wedding and reception.

The state of New York is the largest producer of buckwheat, with Pennsylvania second, Michigan third and Maine fourth.

The original Cabinet officers of the United States were Secretary of State, Secretary of War, Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney General.

Torney Proposal . . .

last Saturday warned that both city and the hospital may lose unless the requests of both were consolidated in one application.

Appearing before the city council in its special session Wednesday Alworth was again charged with carrying out the resolution of the city council in acquiring all of the Torney General Hospital property. In order to carry out this desire of acquiring the property in total, City Manager Alworth and Councilman Culver Nichols were asked by city council in motion by Councilman Armand Turonnet, to keep themselves in readiness to leave for Washington, D. C., on moments notice. This trip is expected to take place when Congressman Phillips returns to Washington D. C. and arranges for interviews with the proper authorities in the nation's capital.

FEEL CONFIDENT

Alworth in reporting to the City Council said the Palm Springs Hospital Association directors felt they would jeopardize their chances of acquiring ward "B" and the 20 acres the hospital wants by joining the city's petition for the acquisition of the entire Torney General property.

And, Alworth said, the directors of that Association feel quite sure the government will act favorably on their petition.

At the same time the city fathers feel their petition is also justified and feel they have a good chance in attaining their goal as contained in their original petition and a re-affirmation of

MORE ABOUT . . .
Food Drive . . .

he had personal knowledge of the food famine in Europe. He declared that he has seen the people we will feed both in time of peace and in time of war.

Many representative citizens of the community, including city officials quickly rallied to the support of the drive for canned foods.

Mayor Clarence A. Hyde thought the idea was splendid and also suggested that where food could not be obtained, that checks be sent to the Desert Sun which in turn would send the money to UNRRA for the purchase of food.

Judge Eugene E. Therieu, former mayor, also urged all citizens to get behind the drive and show the world that Palm Springs has a heart as big as the desert itself.

ALL TO JOIN IN

William E. Alworth, city manager, offered to give any of his off duty time to the drive in the hope that the Village will make a good showing.

Kenneth Kirk, Frank Cutler, Edward R. Bacon, Winston Griffith and many other prominent citizens, including Muriel Fulton, realtor, pledged their whole-hearted support of the food collection drive. Others who rallied to the support of the drive was the Palm Springs Drug and Import, Bill Ude, The Smoke Tree Ranch, The Doll House, Walt Spalding, Ernie Alschuler, Lee Bering of the Palm Springs Tennis Club and the Pago Pago.

GROCERS COOPERATING

A representative of the Desert Sun interviewed several of the independent grocers in the city seeking their support of the drive. All of them pointed out that their food stocks in canned goods were low but, in any event, if a customer wanted to purchase an extra can of food to contribute to the drive, it would be alright with them. In a display on another page of this paper the grocers who have agreed to enter the drive give their message to the citizens of Palm Springs.

Primarily, the drive is aimed at those residents of the city who have large stocks of food on their shelves. The suggestion is that rather than buy an extra can of food at the grocers, that these people dig into their supply and select several cans for contributions.

JUST ONE CAN

Everyone interested in the food collection campaign wished it pointed out, and emphatically, that one "measly" can of beans would stave off death from starvation of some person suffering from the "disease" of an empty stomach.

Phillips, in his message to the Desert Sun, indicated that one of the great nations of Europe is taking food away from its own people to give to the hungry of France. This, Phillips said, was being done in order to sway elections in that country.

BRING IT OUT

This, Congressman Phillips continued, is one of the things that the United States and other nations frown upon. But unless food is rapidly given to these people to free their minds of hunger pangs, the nation interested in the elections in France will win in the end.

BRING THAT CAN OF FOOD OUT OF HIDING.

This is hoped will be the hue and cry of every humane citizen in Palm Springs. If you have no food, checks from $1.00 up will be accepted, it was said.

It is predicted that Palm Springs will have both money and piles of food to ship when the national drive commences May 12.

Harry Harper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has promised to provide a box in the chamber's offices where food may be deposited. Food also may be delivered to the offices of the Desert Sun and the Post Office. From these temporary depositories the food will be collected and kept in a safe place until directions for its shipping are received from national headquarters of the drive.

REED'S READER

Never let it be said that this column is a wanton rumor-monger, but . . . there is a very persistent tale going the rounds to the effect that summer is just around the corner. Just in case the thermometer at the police station wins out in its battle against Harry Harper and his Chamber of Commerce crew, don't say that we didn't warn you.

This all leads up to the fact that it may get warm soon . . . and if it does, you should ought to take care of your phonograph records (purchased from Reed's, of course). If you're not taking them to the fog belt for the summer, we suggest that you store them flat, in albums, to keep them from warping and looking like slightly used tortillas. We'll be glad to give you some cardboard for free if you need them to level out your albums.

And speaking of albums (here's the commercial!), that old cowboy, Bing Crosby, is ridin' our range with twelve whole sides of western favorites. Called "Don't Fence Me In," it has everything from "Pistol Packin' Mama" to "You Are My Sunshine." Hitch your hayse in front of Reed's and die happy.

We're making recordings of the Pa'n Springs Hillbilly each day on account because of he's setting a new standard of hillbilly goin'-on, according to the boss. He likes Conky, Phat goes for Lombard, and I'll take a short beer . . . not at Reed's Radio Shop.

Police Seek Stolen Airplane In Village

Youth, Eager to Join Breakfast Flight, At La Paz Purloins Plane and Flies Here; Always Something New Under (and in) Sun

There's always something new under the sun (and in The Sun). This week it's a stolen airplane.

For the first time in local police history, the local department was asked to be on the look-out for an airplane stolen in Los Angeles county and believed en route here. The request came from the Los Angeles sheriff's substation at San Dimas.

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann quickly dispatched Officer Robert Phillips to the Palm Springs army air base, to search among the 185 planes that landed there for the L. A. to Palm Springs breakfast flight. But, apparently in the light of later developments, he conducted his search too early. Going back for another check later in the day, he did find the plane. It was poised at the far end of one of the 7,000-foot runways preparing to take off.

Phillips rushed back to the police station and called the sheriff's substation at San Dimas, to inform the authorities there of the latest developments. Later another telephone call revealed that both the pilot of the stolen aircraft and the ship had been apprehended on landing at San Dimas.

Reconstructed on information gathered at the local police station and through telephone conversations with the sheriff at San Dimas, the story goes this way: A 16-year-old boy, who had been flying rented ships around San Dimas, wanted to lease the plane for the breakfast flight. The owners of the ship refused. Undeterred in his determination to participate in the breakfast flight, the young aviator stealthily crept into the cockpit of the ship and before anybody could stop him, had taken off for Palm Springs.

Mrs. Herman Reich
Elected President of Jewish Woman

Mrs. Herman Reich was elected president of the Palm Springs Jewish Women's group at a joint election and installation meeting last week at the Del Tahquitz hotel. Business and election preceded the luncheon social event.

Mrs. Herman Levine was elected vice-president; Mrs. Jack Gholston, recording secretary; Mrs. Rube Kulla, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lou Dubin, treasurer; and Mrs. Stanley Rosin, honorary president.

Mrs. Rosin was presented with a beautiful corsage as a token of her splendid work as president of the group since its inception, and Mrs. Herman Fleishman, who installed the new officers, expressed her deep appreciation and that of the association to the retiring officials. She then installed the new leaders.

After the installation, Mrs. Fleishman, acting in behalf of Mrs. Kulla, presented a cherished Palestine gavel, as a gift to the group. Mrs. Rich, as president, made the gracious acceptance speech with an inspiring talk.

Following the installation and luncheon, members and guests adjourned to the card room, where games were enjoyed.

Cathedral City
Man Robbed But
Jails Assailants

Samuel D. Arner, owner of the Desert Realty company in Cathedral City, still bears the scars today of an attack by two thugs but, because of previous police experience, has his watch and money back and his two assailants face long prison terms.

Arner had gone to Los Angeles and San Bernardino on a business trip. In the latter city, while walking home to his hotel, he was beset by two youths, one of whom pinned his arms from behind while the other hit him with a brass knuckle. He was knocked down in a stunned condition and his purse and watch stolen.

Threatening to shoot him if he told police, the two fled down the street. Arner noted the direction and flagged down an automobile. Policemen were summoned and Arner directed the chase. His bus was right and the car overtook the pair. They were surrounded and arrested. Arner's purse and watch were recovered and the thugs were soon behind bars. Checks of records revealed they were prison parolees and they face a long term behind bars again.

Arner was at one time a police instructor for the government and has had much police experience. His quick action, San Bernardino police said, probably prevented another hold-up for they say the youths confessed planning another robbery that evening.

Police Investigate
Attempted Entry

Police were called early this week to check the residence of Horace Curran, 362 Chino drive, when Ethel Hewlett, employed at the place, reported that a prowler had attempted to remove a screen and enter.

A thorough check of the premises failed to find the would-be intruder or signs of him.

Suspect in Check Case Arrested in Los Angeles Area

Carleton B. Stevens, 42, was arrested in Los Angeles Friday on charges of cashing checks with insufficient funds to cover them on a local guest ranch and is at liberty under $1,000 bail today, awaiting arraignment before Judge Eugene Therieu on May 6.

Stevens is accused of passing six checks, totalling $275, at the local spa, in a warrant issued by Judge Therieu. The asserted worthless checks were passed early in April.

Sgt. Stanley Ehler, in charge of bad check cases, made the investigation which led to Stevens' arrest.

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann, who has issued repeated warnings to local business men and resorts, to exercise caution in cashing checks, said that the local department was maintaining its high average in catching up with check artists and that out of a rash of bad check cases due to the brisk season here, a very small percentage were still unsolved.

Elmer Kolstadt
Purchases Popular
Sandwich Shop

Elmer Kolstadt, well known Villager who has been satisfying the hunger and thirst desires of local people for the past five years and prominent local spots, Wednesday took over the operation of the Village sandwich shop.

He purchased the popular eating spot from George Dennis this week and plans to operate it himself. The sandwich shop will probably be open all summer, Kolstadt said. He plans many improvements during the coming months.

Mr. Dennis said that he had plans for the immediate future but was not ready to announce them now.

The sandwich shop has been under lease to Gladys Denton and Harry George for the past few months.

At La Paz

Early morning and breakfast rides have been popular for guests at La Paz during this seasonal hot spell. Saturday morning a large party assembled, some on horses and others on the old fashioned buckboard, and rode out to a spot on the desert where breakfast was served from a chuck wagon.

Among those in the party riding horses were Jere Beaumont, Chris McGarry, Estelle Maire, Jane Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Standard with their son, Joel; Ariane Ulmer, Marie Titelman, Mrs. George Goggins, Robert Hutchinson, Beverley Houser and Henry Holland.

Those making the trip across the sand dunes on the buckboard included Mrs. Walter Duffy, Mr. and Mrs. Pat McGarry, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Titelman, Mrs. R. Parker, Mrs. Helen Schiller, Lillian and Janis Holland, and Denny Krieg.

When the group returned from the ride they all dove into the swimming pool and continued their suntan from the water's edge or lounging about on the green lawn in the casual outdoor furniture.

Among those having a May holiday at La Paz are Mr. and Mrs.

Bert Hoswell, of Encino; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Briggs, who are over for their third visit this spring from Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Chatkin, Beverly Hills; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Katz, of New York.

From Head to Toe
By BARBARA K. SCHILLY

One fortunate Palmspringer we know is planning a three-week vacation in Mexico . . . and when we chatted, she was very enthused and happy . . . that is . . . over everything except that her plane reservation specifically calls for only 55 pounds of luggage.

So . . . we tried to help her plan her wardrobe . . . and with the aid of practically everything from scales to slide-rules . . . think we have solved the situation.

Of course our first suggestion was (and it isn't cheating) . . . wear your heaviest clothes on the plane. Consequently . . . she will wear her one coat . . . which is part of a three-piece suit. However, instead of the conventional three-piece style . . . it will be . . . a bolero suit with a matching three-quarter swagger back top- per.

The bolero suit is the newest of modes and a topper is so convenient . . . the full-in-back style especially . . . it looks chic with almost everything one wears from morning hikes to evening dancing.

For sight-seeing trips . . . jersey heads her list in regard to fabric . . . and enough praise cannot be given to it for traveling. She thought of slacks for comfort . . . but Mexican fashion still does not sanction slacks on the street and we all know that old adage regarding the Romans.

An evening dress will be in order . . . so we suggested a ballerina style gown . . . above the ankle if she chooses. (Ballerina shoes, of course.) The dress can serve a dual purpose . . . a charming winsome hostess gown for gay Mexican "at-homes" . . . and something equally suitable for evenings that call for semi-

Plan Another Big Fish Fry Soon

Plans for the Palm Springs Fish and Game Association's annual fish fry will be the main topic of the local group's meeting next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the fire station quarters. President Harold Lienau has been successful in obtaining promise for 300 nice-sized trout for the affair which promises to surpass the highly successful event of last year.

Through its influence, the local chapter has been successful in obtaining aid from state hatcheries to plant trout in local streams. Last Sunday a truckload was brought down, a bunch of eight to ten inchers, good catchable size, and another load has been promised within the next three weeks.

Trout season opened Wednesday.

Colored motion pictures of Desert Big Horn sheep in the vicinity will be shown by Harry Mann, who has been successful on several trips during the past years in stalking this seldom seen game with a camera.

Refreshments will be served.

Jack Wentworth
Named Manager
Smoke Tree Ranch

Board of directors of Smoke Tree Ranch, Inc., and Smoke Tree Ranch Associates has announced that acquisition of the property from Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Markham has been completed and that the Ranch is now wholly owned by the members of Ranch Associates, who are the Colonists or property owners at Smoke Tree.

The general plan for the operation of the Ranch will remain the same as in the past and the policy of catering to a highly discriminating clientele will be continued. The Ranch will close this season on April 30, and will open next fall for the 1946-47 season on October 31.

Of interest locally is the recent appointment of Jack Wentworth as general manager of all Smoke Tree Ranch activities. Mr. Wentworth was manager of the Ranch from 1936 to 1938, and some time prior to that was employed by the Desert Inn for two seasons.

He served for three years as an administrative officer in the army air forces after having been manager of Hotel El Cortez in San Diego for two years before the war. He is also former manager of The Ahwahnee at Yosemite National Park and The Santa Fe Inn in New Mexico. This summer he is operating Jenny Lake Ranch, Jackson Lake Lodge and Teton Lodge in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, where he is vice-president and general manager of the Grand Teton Lodge and Transportation company.

Roy Gammill, who has been associated with the Ranch for the past ten years, will continue at Smoke Tree as assistant manager.

May is a favorite month for Californians at The Desert Inn for this is the time when those coveted suntans can be acquired in no time at all, and is when the warm desert nights are most ideal for dining and dancing out under the stars.

It is at this season that the gardens of the Inn reach the peak of their beauty . . . roses border driveways and walks . . . brilliant flowering vines climb over balconies . . . masses of petunias are a riot of color at every turn . . . and honeysuckle covering garden walls is fragrant throughout the grounds. Even the trees have suddenly burst into bloom . . . orchid trees in purple and white . . . oleanders heavy with blossoms of white and pink and deepest red . . . and in full bloom are the native paloverde trees, whose yellow blossoms fall and seem to carpet the ground with sunshine.

HONEYMOON HERE

Socially prominent newlyweds who arrived at the Inn on Sunday to spend their honeymoon in this garden setting were Lt. and Mrs. William Robert Munroe, Jr.

The lovely bride, the former Carlota Sepulveda Chapman, daughter of Princess Conchita Sepulveda Pignatelli and the late Charles Chapman, was married at St. Vincent's Church, in Los Angeles, on Saturday afternoon, to Lt. William Robert Munroe, Jr., USNR, son of Vice Admiral William Robert Munroe, USN, and Mrs. Munroe.

This fashionable and beautiful wedding which was solemnized by His Excellency, John J. Cantwell, Archbishop of Los Angeles, was attended by the elite of California's southland society and social notables from San Francisco and Mexico City.

Following their desert honeymoon, this popular couple will leave to make their home in Puerto Rico, where Lt. Munroe is currently stationed.

CLUB MEETS HERE

Again choosing The Desert Inn for their annual gathering, members of the Ranger's Club together with their wives and guests, assembled at The Desert Inn over the weekend.

This organization is the equestrian group of the Los Angeles Breakfast Club, (an organization that has been meeting every Wednesday morning for the past nineteen years), and several mornings of each week this group of horsemen ride from their clubhouse out on Los Feliz boulevard in Los Angeles.

While at the Inn their days were filled with riding over desert trails and with swimming and lounging in the sun, while in the evenings there were festive outdoor cocktail parties followed by dining or dancing under desert skies.

Among members of this group who were seen having fun at the weekly dinner dance held on the tennis courts of the Inn last Saturday evening were Judge and Mrs. Carlos Hardy, Mr. and Mrs.

MASON
SMITHOn Location with Jack Breed in Northern Arizona.It is difficult to write one's first impressions of a scenic wonder like Monument Valley. The formations are so different from anything else you've ever seen before, the colors so intense and unbelievable, and the space so vast as to be almost incomprehensible, that your first views of the valley are filled with almost audible gasps of astonishment. A friend of mine once told me that when he first looked into the huge gorge of the Grand Canyon, he burst into tears, so profoundly did the spectacle move him! I found my throat choked when we drove to the edge of the rim and gazed down onto a portion of Monument Valley. It was just too much to grasp at one time.The drive from Harry Goulding's Trading Post to what is called The Rim is by all odds the most difficult stretch of terrain to cross in the entire trip to Monument Valley. It is three miles from the Post to the main "highway" running roughly north and south between Kayenta, Arizona and Bluff, Utah. The road to the Rim cuts across this route and heads nearly due east to the right of the monuments to be seen on the horizon. It is hard to travel simply because it climbs steadily the whole extent and because it traverses a very broad flat sand dune. Without extra large tires and low air-pressure, it is virtually impossible to get even as far as the Rim. Fortunately our station wagon had larger tires, and we had already deflated the pressure to twenty pounds in the rear tires; naturally this is hard on tires, and a set will last only half as long as normally when driven under such conditions. That is why, if the average tourist does not have such a specially adapted vehicle and does not have the experience of driving in deep sand, it is best to take left. That leads between the Mittens and on behind Brigham Young's Tomb toward Castle Butte. It was on that road that the exteriors for the film "The Harvey Girls" were photographed.

Now you cross a bumpy wash which in wet weather is very apt to be quicksand. Up another rise around an unnamed butte and beyond to the base of Cly Butte on your left. Cly Butte was named after Hosteen Cly, a famous Navaho chieftain. We later discovered his burial site on the other side of the butte; here the elements have exposed the old Indian's saddle, the bones of his horse killed at his funeral, his favorite coffee pot and cooking equipment, all originally buried with him under a gnarled juniper. Ernie Pyle wrote of this same place, but wind and rain has wreaked much change since that day.

After being jerked from side to side and bounced bodily all about your car, you at last come out on the edge of the Rim, from which you look down into a broad low valley about five hundred feet below you, stretching away to the northeast for about fifty miles ended by the sharp outlines of Comb Ridge far in the distance. It is here that some of the monuments cast shadows nearly 35 miles long at sunset!

To your immediate left is the mighty ramparts of Brigham Young's Tomb, its vertical much-dissecting cliffs blazing red-orange in the sun. Directly in front and below you, even though it still towers a 1000 feet into the cloudless sky, is the first of the Mittens, its thumb pointing to the right. When viewed alone, it is sometimes also called the Tea Kettle, and we later noted that the "spout" looked for all the world like the full-length figure of the Christus, especially when you looked up at it in coming out of the Valley. Just to the right of the first Mitten (actually a good three miles beyond) is the second Mitten, with its thumb upright to the left of the hand. Only the very tips of this odd pair of Mittens can be seen from the main highway four miles back of you.

HISTORIC BUTTES

To the right of the second Mitten is an isolated lone butte called Merrick Butte. It was given this name because in the early days when the Paiutes were fighting continually against the inroads of the Whites, two prospectors named Merrick and Mitchell came into Monument Valley, intent upon finding some of the fabulously rich silver mines the Indians were supposed to be operating. Being rather unscrupulous, they soon made trouble and started to flee the region. But the Paiutes overtook them and killed Mitchell at the base of the butte now bearing his name. Merrick fled wounded and died at the foot of Merrick Butte. Merrick Butte is located directly behind you as you face the rim.

The big mesa to your right has no accepted name, but the Goulding's refer to it as Ruin Mesa, because of the abundance of small Indian ruins in and about it. Between this mesa and Merrick Butte you look across a much-eroded area dotted with unusual formations, on eastward toward the great circular area of the valley called the Tsay-begay, most of which has not been fully explored even yet, and much of which has never been seen by White men!

All of the formations arrayed before you are brilliantly colored, changing during the day from deep chocolate brown to yellow tan, rich orange, and finally at sunset to startling crimsons. As the shadows change on them, they appear differently and assume quite contrasted silhouettes. Monument Valley is a place for those with much imagination; every rock takes on a strange shape, and the whole area seems populated with the most unusual creatures.

FEEL DWARFED
The road, if you can call it that, drops down into the floor of the Valley. From here you begin to appreciate the grandeur of the monuments. You feel dwarfed beneath them. As you wind and bounce in and out among them you try in vain to comprehend what titanic forces must have been at work to sculpt out such huge structures, and out of hard resistant sandstone, at that.

Your road takes you on by the Mittens and Merrick Butte. One faint road branches off to your

New Yorker Held For Trial as Result Of Wreck Near City

Stanley A. Odulum, 30, of New York, son of Floyd Odulum and stepson of Jacqueline Cochran, internationally famous aviatrix, was held to answer to a charge of driving while intoxicated when he appeared in Justice court at Riverside last week-end. He is at liberty under $1,000 bail.

Odulum was involved in an automobile accident the night of March 16 on Highway 111, east of Cathedral City, in which two well-known and popular Palm Springs high school students were injured.

LOCAL STUDENTS HURT
A model T coupe, driven by Thomas Griffith, 16, of Palm Springs, was struck from the rear and demolished by the heavier automobile driven, so police charge, by Odulum. Young Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Griffith, and Cherie Mashburn, also 16, who lives here with her grandmother, Mrs. A. C. Schultz, were seriously hurt.

Of the two, the popular high school girl was the more seriously injured.

Griffith was a witness at the preliminary hearing Friday in Justice R. A. Moore's court at Riverside.

CHP Officer James P. Stewart told of investigating the crash. The night was clear, with bright moonlight, he said. Condition of the two automobiles indicated that the light coupe occupied by young Griffith and Miss Mashburn was struck from the rear by the heavier vehicle reportedly driven by Odulum. Stewart expressed the opinion that Odulum was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

COMING FROM PICNIC

Griffith said that he and Miss Mashburn were returning from a high school class picnic among nearby desert sand dunes at the time of the accident. He heard the screech of tires and brakes from behind his car, he testified, then was knocked unconscious by the force of the collision or by the car turning over. He regained his senses to find his companion lying injured and unconscious near the wreck of his car, he said.

Two unidentified passing motorists rescued Miss Mashburn, whose head was partially buried in the sand near the overturned coupe.

Odulum was represented in court by Attorneys R. J. Welch and Kenneth E. Schwinn.

Handling the prosecution at yesterday's hearing was Chief Deputy District Attorney Harry M. Dougherty.

Plans for the construction of a large, new modern laundry plant in the southern section of the Village were announced this week by N. W. Kelley, manager of the Desert Hand Laundry, Inc., on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bailey and himself and wife, owners.

The company has purchased property at the southwest corner of Palm Canyon drive and Sunny Dunes road and plans for the new modern laundry building are being completed. It will have a 175-foot frontage on Palm Canyon drive and approximately 200 feet on Sunny Dunes road.

Plans include a building of the latest design in which machinery to give the Village and environs the best of laundry service, will be installed.

New Officers for Village Lions Club
Installed at Party

With high officials of Lions International presiding, newly-elected officers of the Palm Springs Lions club were installed last night at a colorful dinner dance at the Desert Inn and a charter was issued the newest Lions club, the Calipatria club.

Harold J. Hicks was installed as president, Ray Sorum as first vice-president, Chief of Police August Kettmann as second vice-president, Frank Partridge as third vice-president, Lee Kalbach as secretary, Earl Hough as treasurer, Joe Allard as tail-twister and Herb Mennel as lion tamer.

Leo Baker and Clinton Bowers were installed as new directors. The above, with E. F. Martell and Elmo Purnell, hold-over directors, will guide the destiny of the club during the coming year.

Charter members of the Calipatria club and their wives were guests at the affair and the charter was presented to the new club by Fred W. Smith of Ventura, second vice-president of Lions International. Mr. Smith also inducted the new officers of the local club.

Two unidentified passing motorists rescued Miss Mashburn, whose head was partially buried in the sand near the overturned coupe.

Odulum was represented in court by Attorneys R. J. Welch and Kenneth E. Schwinn.

Handling the prosecution at yesterday's hearing was Chief Deputy District Attorney Harry M. Dougherty.

Bogart Elected as Museum Head and 1947 Plans Mapped

Frank Bogart was elected president of the board of directors of the Palm Springs Desert Museum; H. Carl Hover, first vice-president; Earl Coffman, second vice-president; Christian Lillian, third vice-president, at a meeting of the Museum association last week.

Mrs. O. M. Ward was re-elected secretary and Edwin F. Leigh, treasurer.

Heading committees to carry on the various projects of the Museum were Ernest Alschuler, Earl Coffman, Dr. William B. Colburn, Stanley Rosin, and Frank Bogart.

"Prospects for another excellent year for the Museum in the coming season are brightest," said Bogart. "The support of the friends of the Museum and the community have been great and pledges of continued support promise another great year."

"The Museum is mapping plans now to provide even greater service to the citizens and visitors in the Village next year and to extend its activities to even a greater scope than in the past."

Palm Village

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Richards of Beverly Hills have started construction on their new home in Palm Village. They will move in next fall.

The Village is becoming quite a tennis spot. Herb Truex took son Jim, Ed Wills and Bob Ellsworth Sunday. A swim lowered all temperatures afterward.

Miss Jane McFarland of Honolulu visited the Clarence Bosworths this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Winterbottom and Mr. and Mrs. Richard

Lawyer of San Marino spent several days in the Village, relaxing without the small fry.

The new diving board is fine for those that dive. Me; I go in the hard way. There is nothing hard about swimming these days though. We've a very popular pool, it seems. It's mighty fine swimming now, and all you have to do is dodge the young, steaming around on inflated inner tubes.

The motels are coming along, and very attractive units they are, so placed that the view is magnificent, and very near the swimming pool and tennis courts.

Tuesday evening, Executive Committee of the new Legion Post here, held its first meeting at the home of the adjutant, Jack Swetland. At the meeting organization difficulties and other items of business were shaped up to present to the closed Post meeting this evening, the last business meeting of the season.

One of the items that will meet with enthusiastic approval tonight is the plan for a smash bang-up social meeting to wind up the season's activities, on the evening of May 10, by the falls in Magnesia Canyon. All Legionnaires and guests are cordially invited to participate. It is hoped that the Owen Coffman Post will be well represented. Third city in Southern California in building during the month of March—sixth in the 11 western states.

That was the record of Palm Springs, according to figures received and compiled by P. M. Swart, deputy public works administrator, this week.

Last week he gave out figures showing that the Village was exceeded only by Los Angeles and Long Beach in the southland in new construction in March. This week he received compilations of all cities west of Denver, Colo., which showed that Palm Springs was the sixth city in the western half of the nation in new construction.

BIG CITIES TRAIL

Los Angeles, San Francisco, Long Beach, Seattle and Portland were the only ones topping the Village. Trailing Palm Springs in building operations were Oakland, Denver, Sacramento, Tacoma, Beverly Hills, Pasadena, Burbank and Salt Lake.

For the first three months of 1946 Palm Springs ranked 11th in the 11 western states.

Permits for new construction in Palm Springs in April totaled $450,385 as compared to $45,970

Warm Weather Is Cause of Changes In P. E. Program

By JEANNETTE OFSTHUN

"You Can't Take It With You" is the title of this year's senior play, to be presented on May 10 beginning at 8:15 p. m. at the Plaza Theater.

According to Mr. Irving Sussman, director, it will be one of the finest high school plays ever produced. He says "You Can't Take It With You" is a typical American play. "Since it was first produced in 1936, this fine comedy has been enjoyed by thousands of delightful audiences," he continued. "In my fifteen years of directing acting groups I have seldom come across such a talented group of players as those producing the play here at Palm Springs this year."

"You Can't Take It With You" was produced at the Booth Theater, New York City, December 14, 1936, by Sam H. Harris, for the first time.

The school cast is as follows:

Penelope Sycamore — Carol Burkett.

Essie Joanne Hookey.

Paul Sycamore — John Klug.

Rheta DeLorse Roth.

Mr. DePenna — Bob Eckert.

Ed — Gillar Boyd.

Donald — Jim Seares.

Martin Vandroh — John Wilson.

Alice — C. J. Lyter.

Henderson — Barry Miller.

Tony Kirby — Bill Oakman.

Boris Kolenkhov — Mort Algase.

Mr. Kirby — Tom Peterson.

Mrs. Kirby — Julie Martineau.

Two Men — Bill Carey and Bob Hoover.

Oiga — Mary Jo Graefe.

The play is a comedy satire which takes place during the depression year of 1937. It is the story of a delightful family that lives the way it has always wanted to live. When this family comes in contact with a wealthy, conventional family, the result is not only a play loaded with fun, but a clear-cut comedy with deep significance.

New scenery is being made for the play and a microphone system is being used (through the courtesy of the Reed Electric Co.) so that everyone will be able to hear every word.

Hogs can probably make use of more different kinds of food than any other farm animal.

Prom Is Highlight Of Year as Juniors
And Seniors Dance

The Junior-Senior Prom, which began at 8:00 Friday night, was the big social event highlighting the current school year. The tables at which both host and guest ate, were decorated with maroon and white oleanders. The lanterns that hung overhead gave out their rich warm glow to the whole setting—the band playing in the background, the formal attire of those present, and the enjoyable dinner.

After a four-course dinner, consisting of grapefruit, jellied salad, chicken and strawberry sundae, the dance got under way.

Some of the couples seen keeping time to the rhythmic beats of the dance music . . . Sally, with her beautiful taffeta gown, with Jim Seares, Julie Martineau looking oh so sophisticated with her hair in an up-swept hairstyle and a black low-neck evening dress, with Joe Brummitt, who was much like the gallant gentleman . . . Barbara Beaton with Mort . . . Barbara Croft with Tom Archer . . . An out-of-town girl from L. A. High whom we saw was Barbara Toor, with Dick Charlston sporting a buff green-blue sport coat . . . Hookey looked cute with Don Williams her escort . . . Dulcy and Don, Erica and Tom, Phyllis and Jack, Cherie and Bob Eckert, Delorse and Bobby, Lolo and Whitley, Carol and Hoover, Diane and Bob Bell, Klug and Vivian, and others there too numerous to mention.

One of the highlights of the night's gaiety was the crowning of Prom Queen Ann St. Clair, who was presented a floral head-dress of orchids by Dr. E. E. Oertel. Present at the dance were numerous faculty, school board, and alumni members.

The success of the prom was largely due to the work of Miss Bernice Lamb, the junior class advisor; Barbara Croft, junior class president, Sally Robinson, junior class vice-president; Jack Reis, who was in charge of creating place cards; Vivian Gutiello, decorations; Barbara Smith, favors (little silver hats presented to the senior girls); Jim Seares, reservations; Tom Archer, reservations; Joanne Hurd and Bette Tarr.

The following couples are juniors and seniors, mixed: Vivian Gutiello and John Klug, Joanne Hurd and Bill Oakman, Don Williams and Joanne Hookey, Barbara Beaton and Mort Algase, Lolo Vallier and Les Smith, Bob Jones and DeLorse Roth, Cherie Mashburn and Bob Eckert, Diane Heller and Bob Bell, Dulcy Hoover and Don Hainer. Alumni Maurie Smith and Norma Jean McBrey, Paul Kaitukoff and Trudy Sawyer also attended the Prom. We hope the seniors enjoyed it as much as we juniors did.

Don Michael had another party Saturday night, taking up where he left off last weekend. Only this time it was different. Everyone sat around telling ghost stories. At least I think that's what they call it. It was a small gathering, consisting of Mort Algase and Barbara Beaton, Seares and Diane, and the rest seniors.

The following night Michael had a "Swedish Zing Party." What's that? There is no exact definition for it but it's just lots of fun. Pillow fighting took up lots of the time when we weren't zinging. Thank you, Hook, for the use of your records. You don't know what a chance you're taking.

Friday night (seeing that the Sophomores couldn't go to the Prom) Ellsworth had a slumber party. Boy what cold water. Finding nothing to do in P. S. Flavin, Croshier and Doro came out. We had a community sing, Betty Ann playing the piano and Well that's about all, freshmen. We will just remind you that to be a member of our illustrious freshman class is a great honor (that's why we don't allow any of this sophomore, junior, or senior riffraff in).

William A. Foster of Palm Springs is a student at the Navy Pacific University at Pearl Harbor which opened Jan. 3.

The faculty of the university is composed of navy and marine personnel and there is an enrollment of almost 3,000 servicemen.

George Roberson
Resigns From Board

George Roberson, a member of the planning commission almost since its organization, Wednesday tendered his resignation.

It was accepted with regret by city council and a resolution expressing the city's appreciation for his long years of service, passed unanimously.

According to official figures the state of Wisconsin has 2,577,000 dairy cows. Statistics disclose that there are about 170,000 dairy farmers in the state and that the average dairy herd is from 10 to 15 cows.

By BETTY WRIGHT

At last the boys' and girls' tennis teams have burst into action. The teams were chosen to play Banning's teams Wednesday, April 24. The Palm Springs girls line-up was:

1st singles, Diane Heller; 2nd singles, Mildred Potter; 3rd singles, Barbara Croft; 4th singles, Barbara Jones.

The Banning girls won all sets from Palm Springs with the exception of Barbara Jones, who won her game 6-4.

1st doubles, Diane Heller and Barbara Croft; 2nd doubles, Sally Robinson and Dulcy Hoover.

The Palm Springs boys' line-up was:

1st singles, Don McLearn; 2nd singles, Don Williams; 3rd singles, Joe Brummitt; 4th singles, Tom Peterson; 1st doubles, Don McLearn and Don Williams; 2nd doubles, Tom Archer and Bob Hoover.

The Palm Springs boys won all the games from Banning. The girls lost all but one game to Banning but the boys upheld the Palm Springs reputation.

The girls will play again Wednesday (too late for this edition) with Coachella's girls at the Racquet Club. The boys will play Coachella's boys at Coachella.

The G.A.A. baseball games will be played Thursday instead of Wednesdays due to the tennis matches now held on Wednesdays.

The G.A.A. board is proud to announce that the G.A.A. formal banquet will be held May 8th at the Desert Inn. Due to the difficulties in the schedule, it was put a week ahead.

When the boys from Brawley came here for the track meet last week, they left a nice supply of telephone numbers on the gym wall. Hope we get more from Elsinore at the track meet this week.

Since the discovery of our new volleyball, we are now playing every day in P. E.

25 Students at Fathers-Sons Lions Club Rally

By HERB MENNELL

Boys whose fathers are members of the local Lions Club were guests at the club's annual Father and Son luncheon held Thursday, April 25, at the Desert Inn.

Lloyd Simon, Lions Club president, opened the meeting just as the fathers and sons were putting the finishing touches on their desserts. There was a little horseplay to put all in a good mood and the old gag was presented called "Tail Twister," in which the president sees how much money he can get from the members of the club. This money goes to various charities of the community.

Mr. Simon then asked the fathers to introduce their sons. There were approximately 25 high school students.

Following the introductions of the sons, the speaker of the day was Mr. Harvey, who gave a very fine talk on the history of newspapers and to back up his talk he displayed many old and historical papers from many different countries of the world.

Before the meeting closed three pounds of butter were auctioned off. The first two pounds went for $7.50 a pound, but the last one brought in $19.50.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By TISH FOWLER

Our first letter is from Poe Et Ree College, Shakespeare, Minnesota:

Dear Miss Fowler, Why is it that poor little me never makes a hit? With the boys? I try my very bestest best. I'd love to feather my own little nest. But no joy. I am sweet and simply coy. Guess who screams? That's right, the boys. But I try. I quote poetry by the hour.

ON THE WARPATH

By ED WILLS

First doubles: McLearn and Williams defeated Stanfield and Hemmerling 6-0, 7-5.

Second doubles: Archer and Hoover defeated 6-1, 6-1.

And so P. S. is off to a grand start in R. C. L. Tennis competition and seems to be definitely in line for another championship in keeping with our past records.

Friday marked another busy day in our little world of sports as Palm Springs took to the track to demolish a weakened Elsinore team. Many Elsinore boys were not able to come because of other activities but they managed to show strength in "B" and "C" class while being completely crushed in the major division.

Nothing outstanding such as record breaking took place in this meet but many boys rang up high scores to bolster our total instead of leaving things to one or two as has been our past experience.

In class "C" Martineau and Simpson starred in the 50 and 100 yard dashes respectively and sparked our winning "C" relay team as usual.

"B" class produced little in the exceptional brackets but Mike Santavenero took another "hand-down" 660 yard run which showed him to be a league possibility. In class "A," favored by weak competition, four boys tied for high point honors with 9 1/4 each. Brummitt, Holderman, Williams and Wills each took one first and one second place to total eight points and then the same four picked up 1 1/4 points for the winning relay.

Final results are as follows:

	P.S. Elsinore
Class "A"	70 28
Class "B"	30 42
Class "C"	35 38
Total	135 108

Incoming Students

With the end of another week two more students have joined our ranks. The first one is a pretty junior lass who was born on November 20, 1929. This gal stands 5 ft. 2 in., has auburn hair and green eyes; her weight is 108 pounds. But to the local wolves she is very devoted to a certain young man in the Army Air Corps. Her ambition is to be a good wife. So I present the girl, formerly of Inglewood High, Miss Jackie Mizesak.

The second student to enroll in this institution this week is a freshman boy who hails from Kern High in East Los Angeles. He was born in Las Vegas on November 13, 1931. His height is 5 ft. 2 in., has light brown hair and green eyes (just like Jackie) and weighs 116 pounds. He says his favorite pastime is women. This boy's name is Warren (Pee Wee) Farrell.

Notice

The freshman class is giving a Little Top Ball on May 17th. This dance is girls' choice and the admission price will be $1.00 for both couples and stags alike and will include a lot of good refreshments. Everyone wear masquerade costumes (be sure to come masked!) and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. There will be good music (records, of course) and the time is from 8:00 to 11:30.

Be sure to come, one and all, and make the freshman dance something to remember.

Scholarship

The Scholarship Society has decided to go to an operetta on its "ditch day," Wednesday, May 15th. They will see the "Vagabond King" at the Philharmonic. The supervisor to accompany the group is Miss Elizabeth Farrar.

May We Introduce . . .

By JEANNETTE OFSTHUN

"I love to go to parties," exclaims this week's sophomore girl, and she hardly ever misses one. To give you a clearer idea of what she looks like (and believe me, she looks good), she is a little gal, 5 ft. 3 in., and weight 115 pounds. Her eyes are green with blue highlights and her hair dark blonde, light blonde on top, sunbleached of course. She is 16 years young.

At the present she has no special hobby, but she used to collect perfume bottles. Her favorite sport is "Swedish Zing Parties." Baseball will do, though, if there isn't anything more exciting.

Believe it or not, she aspires to go to college. Maybe she'll get there someday. Washing dishes is something she would rather not do, and she hates to see someone wearing bobby sox with high heels. She would gladly run a mile for a vanilla soda (well, one block anyway).

When asked about her favorite kind of men, she says, "I'll take a very vout, mellow oroomie type." Maybe the fact that she was born in Kansas City, Mo., accounts for her strange language. I'm sure her friends understand her and she has quite a few of them, too. May we introduce a popular sophomore girl—Virginia Miller.

Our sophomore boy was also born in Kansas City, only in a different state, Kansas. He is 5 ft. 8 in., 17 years old and very very blonde; in fact he is what is known as a towhead. In his spare time he collects letters, stamps and minerals.

Taking a spin in a car is his idea of fun, and shoveling sand is his idea of what isn't fun. He thrives on meat and butter, (what a combination).

Evidently he works at the bowling alley, because his pet peeve is people who throw two balls down the alley at the same time when he is setting pins.

Natural girls inspire him. Natural hair, natural make-up, natural personality, and not always talking. (That's asking too much).

His ambition is a mighty one—to graduate from high school. Football is his favorite sport. Haven't you ever heard of Homer? Well, now you know who he is—Homer Beard.

May We Introduce . . .

By JEANNETTE OFSTHUN

"I love to go to parties," exclaims this week's sophomore girl, and she hardly ever misses one. To give you a clearer idea of what she looks like (and believe me, she looks good), she is a little gal, 5 ft. 3 in., and weight 115 pounds. Her eyes are green with blue highlights and her hair dark blonde, light blonde on top, sunbleached of course. She is 16 years young.

At the present she has no special hobby, but she used to collect perfume bottles. Her favorite sport is "Swedish Zing Parties." Baseball will do, though, if there isn't anything more exciting.

One Dead, Three Injured, in Crash Of Airplane at Local Port as Private Ship Comes in for Landing on Field

One of the first air crashes to take place at the local army air base in almost a year took place last Saturday night, bringing death to one of the plane's occupants and serious injuries to the civilian pilot and two other passengers. The aircraft was completely destroyed by fire.

Dead was Phillip Sterling Trevor, 31, Los Angeles commercial photographer. Brought to the Palm Springs Community hospital where they are still hospitalized, are Leslie E. Bowman, 33, pilot; Mrs. Lloydene Bowman, 30, wife of the pilot, and Miss Zala M. Jones, 25, Beverly Hills, who was Trevor's assistant.

Cause of the crash was unknown until Deputy Coroner Arvid M. Depew, was able to obtain a statement from Bowman at the hospital. The injured pilot said he had been given the signal to come in for a landing by the control tower at the field and while preparing to do so from a low altitude, the ship hit a down draft and crashed to the ground. He said he was in his final approach when the accident occurred.

Watchers at the field saw the plane circle the field twice and saw the ship coming in for a landing. Suddenly, it was reported, the plane was lost to sight and in the next instant the crash was heard. An explosion and fire immediately followed. All of the occupants, including the dead man and a little dog were thrown clear of the burning ship.

The aircraft was a five-place cabin type Fairchild. Bowman is a former Air Transport Command pilot and had chartered the plane with Trevor to fly to Palm Springs to take part in the activities Sunday during the breakfast flight of more than 185 civilian planes from Los Angeles to Palm Springs. Trevor had intended to take pictures of the event.

The Chamber of Commerce has certainly set a precedence for holding good parties. The Spring Frolic, held at the La Quinta Hotel Monday evening, was one of the best. Around four hundred Villagers toured to the nearby resort for the festivities. A lucious buffet supper was served in the patio and Roma Marvin seemed to be trying to break some sort of record for toting heavy weights. Dancing, indoors and outdoors, was enjoyed by all. The beauty of having the season over is that Villagers can take the time to get together and have fun.

A double feature was held by the Lions Club this week when they had their installation banquet at the Desert Inn in conjunction with the granting of a charter to the newly formed Calipatria Lions Club. Many noted Lions from other organizations were in attendance for the event. Among this number was Fred W. Smith, second vice-president of Lions International, who came all the way from Ventura. Harold Hicks was installed as president for the coming year with a mighty fine board to assist him. Places were set for two hundred guests and a lovely evening of dining and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Weddings and more weddings—Spring was ever a time for brides. At an impressive noon ceremony, in the Holy Cross Church of Los Angeles last Sunday, Ann Gaultiello became the bride of Albert Valvo. Gowned in traditional white and carrying a prayer book from which fell streamers of orchids, the bride presented a beautiful picture. She was attended by Mrs. Mary Dragana as matron of honor and her sister, Vivien Gaultiello, as maid

The United States experienced its first financial panic in 1837. Martin Van Buren was president of the United States at that time.

The first session of the United States Supreme Court was held on February 1, 1790, in what was known as the Royal Exchange, on Broad street, in New York City.

Carol Burkett Top Student of Year, Vote of Students

By HAL MINTZ

Carol Burkett, popular member of the Senior class, is scholastically the high point student of the school and is therefore Valedictorian for the Class of '46.

Carol has displayed her unusual talents time and time again throughout her high school career. She has been an active member of the exclusive Scholarship Society for six semesters, a record well-envied by many good students. Carol is also an experienced oratorist. She took first place in the Lions Club oratorical contest held at the Desert Inn, March 7. She then went further to win the zone contest. Carol is co-editor of Chia. So, Palm Springs high school can well be proud of its valedictorian, Carol Burkett.

Another outstanding student of the year is Julie Martineau. Julie placed a close second to Carol and is therefore Salutatorian of the class of '46. Julie is commissioner of finance on the Student Council and has held class offices. She is also active in G. A. A.

more important canvasses for shipment, Carl Hoermann, who is also a well known architect, has been drawing plans for a number of new buildings to be built here in the near future. Carl tells us he doesn't dare go back to Michigan without a new painting of the desert, and he says there's no better place in the Valley to find inspiration than this little community right here at Rancho Mirage.

Jack Swetland, whose adobe house was the first to be built on Annex No. 1 five years ago, is cleaning up his Legion work and getting ready for another trans-continental trek this time without the trailer Casita del Camino. Jack says while he kinda misses the old prospector and his desert canary of 25 years ago, still he agrees with Carl that the desert is the place to establish a permanent home, and promises "I shall return" led by his ever-loving wife, the Swedish nightingale whom he converted to the desert from the Connecticut hills. Frankly, some of us desert rats thought Lilli never would be converted.

BUILD NEW HOME

Incidentally, Bob Wilcox, Captain of the Indio Sub-station Sheriff's office, and his charming wife and family, who are building a home here, are taking over the Swetland adobe for the summer. We hear that young Bob has pre-empted the tower.

Our Post Commander Jim Clark and his lovely wife, Caroline, have moved into the Krull adobe. Jim saw service as a Captain in the Photographic Division of the Signal Corps, in Europe, Philippines and Japan. As of last Monday Jim has assumed the position of office manager here, and there are glimmerings of hope that my Rancho Mirage book-keeping job is finally finished—in Jim's capable hands. Jim says his de-coding experience with the Army will greatly aid him in deciphering my hieroglyphics. Good luck, Jim.

Sompin new has been added—a "cucus cola" machine, as we Mexican say—has now been installed to refresh all those pauses. Orange-juice is just around the corner. In another part of the paper you will find some beautiful copy prepared for us by high class publicists, about time standing still, etc. And they are so right; but frankly, chum, at Rancho Mirage every day's a holiday and every night is New Year's Eve. Cheorio, mates.

The first Congressional act providing anti-trust legislation was enacted by the Congress on July 2, 1890. It was known as the "Sherman Act," having been fathered by John Sherman, a Senator from Ohio.

More Money, Less Hours, Plan of Bank of America

A. P. Giannini, founder-chairman of Bank of America, today had announced a shortened work week of approximately 40 hours, on the average, for staff members of the bank's statewide organization, and substantial increases in basic salaries of $500 and under, amounting in some cases to as much as 30 percent, according to word received by Fred Ingram, manager of the local branch.

Giannini said that for more than a year the directors and the management of the bank had been giving consideration to the increase in the cost of living and effects on bankers, "so-called white collar workers." Increased earnings of the bank from a rapidly expanding loan volume made it possible, he said, for the directors to provide for the liberal upward revisions now announced while still observing the obligations of the bank to its shareholders and depositors.

At the time the country en-

Awards Given To Winners in Essay Contest

Mrs. Eva Menard, representing the American Legion Auxiliary, Owen Coffman Unit No. 519, in an assembly Thursday, April 25, presented awards to the three winning contestants from Palm Springs High in the recent essay contest sponsored by the American Legion.

Before presenting the awards, Mrs. Menard delivered a thought on "Americanism" to the student body. Mrs. Menard, in giving her talk, enumerated Americanism as "democracy, freedom and justice—time-honored privileges which we all take for granted."

The students receiving the awards were: Jeannette Oftshun, who placed first in the local contest. Her prize was a cash award plus a book.

In the district finals, Diane Heller's entry placed first, with Bob Hillery and Jeannette Oftshun finding their respective places on the list. All received certificates of merit and a cash prize, too.

The topic on which the students wrote was "American Citizenship—My Privileges and My Responsibilities."

tered the war, said Giannini, the bank's working hours were lengthened to make more people available for other vital needs, and compensation for those extra hours was provided through a supplement payment of 15 per cent on the first $200 of monthly salary.

Since the termination of hostilities substantial majority of the staff has returned from military service and more are continuing to return daily. These reinforcements, together with many new employees, have added well in excess of 2,000 to the staff and have made it possible to return to the shorter work week immediately. Although this automatically dispenses with the 15 per cent extra hours compensation, the equivalent plus a substantial additional amount is to be added to the basic salary.

AUTHORIZE REVISIONS

In all, Giannini stated, the directors have authorized upward salary revisions of 30 per cent for those now receiving $200 per month or less. For those receiving more than $200 per month and less than $333.33 the increase will be $60 per month, and those receiving $333.33 but not more than $500 will be increased $50 per month.

These changes represent an estimated annual increase of $8,000,000 in the basic salary structure of the bank.

It is contemplated that the employees' profit-sharing plan would be kept in effect for those who have had five years or more service with the bank, including military leave.

PRAISES LOYALTY

"The sustained loyal, united and constructive efforts of the entire organization," remarked the founder of the bank, "have produced the results which have made these rewards possible. I know our boys and girls will strive harder than ever to continue to give California the world's most courteous, finest and most comprehensive banking service while personally enjoying more hours of leisure and a higher standard of living."

The salary changes are scheduled to take effect July 1, but if the great majority of branches and departments complete their reorganizations under the shortened work week by the end of May an attempt will be made to put the whole plan into effect by June 1.

That part of the United States known as Florida became a part of the nation in 1819, when it was purchased from Spain for the sum of 5 million dollars.

Cathedral City News Round-Up

Road Improvement Request Filed at 3-Group Meeting

In a joint resolution to the Board of Supervisors of Riverside County the three organizations of Cathedral City — the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Club and the Woman's Club — went on record Monday night, April 29, to request that the road department of Riverside County give immediate attention to all their county roads within the Township after each flood in order to protect the lives and cars of the public who pay taxes for this purpose. There was a very large attendance.

Ray Potter, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting in the absence of Frank Russell who sent his regrets from Crestline, saying it was impossible for him to attend. After the resolution was passed by unanimous and enthusiastic vote, other matters pertaining to Chamber of Commerce Committee work were taken up.

Mrs. Mary Wolseth was appointed chairman of a house committee to report back to the Chamber on what should be done to the Town Hall to make it more adequate for community dinners, church services, club meetings and jamborees.

C. Waller, chairman of the Sanitation committee reported that he had obtained the signature of the garbage collector, Mr. Sanchez, to a six-month contract. It was urged that the Sanitation committee look for someone to assist Carl Higgins in obtaining more subscribers to the garbage service and that this individual be paid on a commission basis.

Considerable time was spent in discussion of the park flood control. Because there appeared to be disagreement among committee members on the methods to be used, Mr. Potter inquired if a joint meeting of the members had been held and J. W. Kyle, chairman, said he had taken each individual to the site but had not called them together for a meeting. He was requested to do this before conducting any further flood work. The members are: Ben Scott and Wilbur Larrison from the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Mary Dawson, representative from the Woman's Club and Capt. George True, representative from the Civic Club.

Mrs. Lucy Abels returned from La Jolla to find her husband, John departing with his buddy, Jim Wolseth, for parts unknown in Utah and the Kaibab Forest. So she packed her bag again and went to San Bernardino to stay with her friend, Mrs. Betty Strotz.

Mrs. Emma Hagan has been laid up for a few days with a sore throat. Miss Jeffie Featherstone has been her able nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harper of Jackson Hole, Wyo., winter residents at the Blue Haven for ten years, are building a cottage at Snow Creek on land leased from the Palm Springs Water Co. They invite their friends to visit them.

Here is a chance for somebody to make some money. A quarter section surrounded by improvements. Easy to level. Fine soil. $19,720 cash is 29% of price and gives you something to work on.

A half block court site in Cathedral City, $4500.

Dear Mr. Editor:

John Cordell put his finger on the trouble here in Cathedral when he stated at a Mass Meeting Monday night that this town has reached a place where it must pay a full time employee to attend to all its business. The civic activity and consciousness of the ever current problems which suddenly appear so acute are merely the growing pains every unincorporated district goes through in its evolution towards becoming an incorporated town. That this town has to control many things is obvious to the sober minded who came here for peace, quiet and beauty.

Mrs. W.

Dear Editor:

The City Fathers had better get together and plan for a real Civic Center. We aren't going to stand still from now on and this town needs a plan to grow towards.

Mr. A. B.

To the Forum:

The vicinity of east end of "G" street is being turned into a private garbage dump by a few people who will not do their part in supporting our garbage disposal service and have no civic pride even though they are home and business owners. If it is not possible to appeal to the pride of these people can't something be done to stop this practice.

We have been informed there is a law prohibiting the dumping of refuse on other people's property. Shouldn't something be done to enforce it. This practice depreciates our assets and sometimes makes us ashamed of our community.

A Home Owner.

Personals

Mrs. George E. Gibson has successfully undergone a serious operation at Loma Linda Hospital. A gift, together with comforting words and signatures of her friends from the Woman's Club were taken to the hospital by Mrs. Mary Wolseth, who reported her looking very well and on the way to recovery.

Nice to see Mrs. Ben Scott Easter vacationing from her school work to give personal touches to the gifts at her shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Thompson and their two sons have moved into one of the newly erected Phillip's cottages. Mr. Thompson is a member of the Palm Springs High School staff while Mrs. Thompson has been one of our able teachers here in the Village.

Mrs. Flora Lee entertained Mrs. Frances Clark and daughter, Mrs. L. Menzies, from Alhambra, one day this week.

Mrs. Virginia Osburn will leave May first, to spend a few days in San Francisco with her mother, Mrs. J. G. Osburn, Sr., who will celebrate her birthday while Virginia is there.

Not all Cathedrals laze around in the sun, as evidenced by Lewis Duncan ambitiously painting his house. He's never too busy though, to give a friendly gesture to passerbys.

Hiya! Mr. Ward, got your note? Glad to see you working for a change—and by the way, how's that boy John? Does he like the new ranch you've bought out Peterson Cove way?

Mr. and Mrs. Fall, business partners of the Paul Clark's visited Sunhaven Court over the weekend. Mr. Fall accomplished a paint job for Paul that sure looks nice.

Miss Lydia Engh smiles broadly these days. Asked why the broad grin, she said, "Oh well, got my new cooler in and it works—good!"

They say good times come in small packages — well they do for sure as we had — yes, sir—BACON for breakfast at Tiny's Malt Shop, Easter Sunday morning.

If Mrs. James Wolseth were paid ten cents an hour for her time spent on civic problems she would amass a small fortune. Have tried to find her loafing just once over the season, no luck as yet. From what I can hear you've got an awful lot of roosters, Mary.

At the afternoon tea given last Friday by Mrs. Edna Laas, it was voted to send gifts to their two sick members who are at present in hospitals, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Gibson. We hope their injuries are not serious and that we shall see him driving around the Village soon again.

And speaking of hospitals, the Community Hospital in Palm Springs gave first aid and care for several days to Dick Landucci, who suffered a motor accident last Saturday night, near the Cove between Palm Springs and Cathedral. We hope his injuries are not serious and that we shall see him driving around the Village soon again.

Plans to Enlarge Town Hall Occupy Cathedral Group

The new House Committee from the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on Tuesday night, at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Hillery. Those present were Mrs. Edna Cobb, Elmer Colglazier, Mary Wolseth, chairman, Mrs. John Cordell and Mrs. Hillery. Mrs. Ethel Moon was unable to attend.

After discussion, the group visited the Town Hall and finally added up the grand total of money needed to enlarge the hall 24 x 24 feet, improve the kitchen with a double restaurant galvanized sink, inspect the roof and patch if necessary, put on a new chimney, redo the floors, put in air-cooling, buy an electric stove and hot water heater, make over the kitchen and buy more utensils.

It came to $4,000! They adjourned to eat ice cream provided by Marguerite after appointing Elmer Colglazier to look into the possibilities of buying surplus equipment from Torney Hospital, at present being demolished by the government. John Cordell is to investigate sources for obtaining financial assistance.

Sanitary District Formation Urged by Carl Higgins

Sanitation, the most important and the most difficult problem of unincorporated districts is again taking the public attention. Carl Higgins, who has so ably handled the bill collection and payments in the past admits he's stumped. There's more money going out than coming in, he says, and only two thirds of the community taking the garbage service. He thinks the answer to this is the forming of a Sanitary District, then taxes will take care of the situation, and the burden will be equally divided, and those people who now persist in dumping unlawfully will find it unprofitable to do so.

This statement was made at the meeting Monday night when Vice-President Potter appointed Mr. C. Waller, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Sanitation Committee to look into the forming of a District. Mr. Waller announced that the committee would also make a revision of the costs of service to cafes whom he found to be paying too little for the amount they now have to haul away.

Several ladies came to the rescue this week in the door to door collection of past due accounts and reported $114 had been obtained in this way. The regular mailing of statements has been started.

Cathedral City Registrations Too Low, Belief

Recent figures show that we have only 250 registered voters at this time in spite of efforts to increase the number. There should be at least 800 from this community. Many people who own property here vote at their 'other home' and this means a resident without a vote. This is serious for Cathedral City when it comes to asking for needed action from our county officials.

It has been suggested that before the registration period terminates next year we should make a special effort and if necessary, make a house to house canvas to get everybody registered. Some of our neighboring communities have been allowed several registrars to round up voters. We could follow this example which seems to work.

The first Federal grants to agricultural colleges was made in 1862.
